DEUTSCHLAND BEGINS VOYAGE

Supersubmarine Reported Off Tangier This Morning

WARSHIPS AWAIT HER

Undersea Boat Expected to Stop at Newport News, or May Anchor in Lynnhaven Bay.

Baltimore, Aug. 2—The wonderful German submarine merchant freighter Deutschland, her captain, Paul Koenig, and her crew of 29 men, sailed late yesterday afternoon from Baltimore to the open sea, and possible capture or death.

On her conning tower, at the feet of her little commander, there bent to the breeze a huge basket of roses and white flowers, the last gift of a Baltimore admirer, whose name Captain Koenig may never know.

And up the old gray wharf at the foot of Latrobe Park Terrace, at the moment the Deutschland's stern slid slowly from behind the barge barricade at the foot of Andre street, sped a man to a telephone with a message to the Baltimore agents for the Entente Allies. The message was this:

"The Deutschland has started."

Captain Koenig and his men put to sea knowing all about the man who sped up the wharf; knew just how long he had watched there day and night; knew just what this message would be, to whom it would go and what it meant. And this is what it meant in Captain Koenig's own words spoken at the land end of the gangplank that led to the Deutschland 10 minutes before the super-submarine left:

"I know," said Captain Koenig, "that eight warships of the Allies are waiting for me at the edge of the three-mile limit. They are spread out in a radius of only five miles. We shall have to pass unseen within that five-mile radius in order to escape.

"We shall have to make that passage under conditions not entirely advantageous to us. Were the water at that point 150 feet deep it would be easier. We could submerge deeply enough to pass underneath the warships. But the water there is not 150 feet deep. We shall therefore have to pass between the warships.

"It will be easier for us to get through the mine- strewn North Sea than to pass the squadron of Allied warships off the American coast. But we expect to do it."

Norfolk, Aug. 2—With eight allied war ships waiting just outside the capes, the German undersea freighter Deutschland is pushing steadily down the bay, prepared to make her dash for the open sea as soon as darkness falls.

The United States warship North Carolina is standing off the shore, just inside the three-mile limit, to make sure that the French and British cruisers do not violate American neutrality in their efforts to catch the U-liner.

Washington, Aug. 2—The Deutschland was reported ten miles below Tangiers at 10 o'clock this morning.

DUTCH STEAMER SUNK.

Crew Safely Landed, Say Captain Boasted of Sinking Five Vessels

London, Aug. 2. — The Dutch steamer Zeeland was torpedoed during the night.

The crew was landed safely at South Shields.

They asserted the German submersible's captain had boasted to them that he had sunk five ships prior to torpedoing the Zeeland.

Lim Lee, a Chinese laundryman, aged 22 and unnaturalized, and Bessie Young, 19 years old, daughter of J. R. Young, of North Danville, were issued a license to be married yesterday.

SHARK CAUGHT IN CHOPTANK.

Monster, Over Eight Feet Long and Weighing 305 Pounds, Landed By Fishermen.

Easton, Md., Aug. 2. — A huge man-eating shark, measuring between 8 and 10 feet in length, weighing over 305 pounds, was caught yesterday by fishermen in a haul seine near Castle Haven, off Long Point, on the Dorchester side of the Choptank river.

Capt. Lee Thompson and son, Harry Thompson of Oxford, were out in their gasoline launch attending to their trot crab lines when they were called by fishermen to come and help them haul in their seine, as a shark was in it. They left their crab lines and ran to shore to help the fishermen land the shark. They succeeded in getting the monster into shallow water, but it fought hard and would have escaped from the net had not Harry Thompson grabbed a large knife and rushed into the water and stabbed the shark several times in the throat.

The big fish was then put aboard Capt. Thompson's launch and brought to Oxford, where hundreds of persons from Easton, Trappe and surrounding country went to view it. The shark was the first ever caught in these waters. It had a double row of sawlike lower teeth.

DEATH OF A. G. SINCLAIR.

Native of Virginia and Confederate Veteran Succumbs at Age of Eight-One.

Arthur Gilbert Sinclair, died at his residence in Washington yesterday morning, after an illness of six month. His wife, Carrie Leftwich Sinclair, died May 14 of this year.

Mr. Sinclair was eight-one years of age, He was a Confederate veteran and a member of Camp No. 171, United Confederate Veterans of the District of Columbia, having served in Company K, 17th Regiment Virginia Volunteers under Capt. John Quincey Marr. He was severely wounded in the battle of Bull Run.

Mr. Sinclair was born in Warrenton, Va., September 20, 1835. He married Carrie Leftwich, daughter of Rev. James Leftwich, a Baptist preacher, of Bedford county, Va., January 26, 1870.

Mr. Sinclair is survived by five children.

To prevent another explosion such as that at Black Tom Sunday morning, the Jersey City commissioners have ordered the railroads to stop shipping war munitions from the piers of New York Bay. The railroads will fight. They are expected to ask for an injunction. Simultaneously it became known that Brooklyn is menaced by a similar peril, against which the New York authorities have failed to take precaution. It was discovered that a flotilla of ships, lighters, and barges lay off the Gravesend shore loaded with far greater quantities of high explosives than those which caused the Black Tom catastrophe.

Hard Shelled Crabs at the Ramell Cafe, Royal Street.

That the merchant submarine Bremen, reported as due at the shores for several days, is a myth, invented by German naval authorities for the purpose of scattering English men-of-war in these waters, thereby giving the Deutschland a better opportunity to slip away, was the statement made yesterday in Pittsburgh, Pa., by Henri Detollenaire, a Frenchman who has been in this country several months placing orders for war munitions for his government. Detollenaire claims to have received this information direct from high officials in Paris who also say that the British naval authorities have known of the German ruse for some time and have laid their plans accordingly.

CUT AUSTRIANS FROM GERMANS

Former's Demoralization and Collapse Expected Shortly

ENEMY LEAVE KOVEL

Muscovites Continue Hammering Process—Swim Streams up to Waists to Make Attacks

London, Aug. 2—The second anniversary of Germany's declaration of war on Russia finds the relative positions of the belligerents very different from those of the first anniversary. The Entente Allies now are pursuing a successful offensive on all fronts and the Central Powers are virtually everywhere on the defensive.

The operations on the eastern front continues to surpass those in the west in dramatic interest. The military critics express great admiration for the Russian tactics, one of the important objects of which, in their opinion, has been to isolate the Austrians from the German armies on the Russian front. This, it now is claimed, has been virtually accomplished by the Russians driving a wedge into the Austro-German positions along the front of Kovel-Vladimir Volynsk.

The view here is that if the Germans have thus accepted severence from the Austrians, the most decisive result of the whole of the Russian General Brusiloff's strategy will have been obtained, it being argued by the military observers that without German support, the Austrian armies will become demoralized.

The critics say that the Austrian forces between the Lipa and Dniester rivers are doomed.

There has been no confirmation of the report received in Rome that Kovel and Vladimir-Volynsk have been exacuated, but Rome is usually well informed on Russian news.

A correspondent with the Russian forces has reported that the roads toward Kovel "are black with the retreating enemy." Exactly where General Brusiloff's next blow will fall is not known. The Russians are virtually within the same distance of both Kovel and Vladimir-Volynsk, and also are pressing closer toward Lemberg.

Since Sunday's combined advance on the Somme line by the British and French, the situation there has been comparatively quiet. The French have sustained the brunt of the German counter-attacks launched against positions captured in this region. The Germans claim to have driven back the British, who had penetrated on a narrow front territory west of the Foureaux wood, and to have repulsed successfully an eight-fold French attack in the neighborhood of Maurepas. There has, however, been no important change in the line since the Anglo-French advance last Sunday.

Copenhagen, Aug. 2—The Neue Freie Presse of Vienna announces, according to a dispatch from that city, that many of the inhabitants of Lemberg, alarmed by the Russian advance, are fleeing to towns further west.

Petrograd, Aug. 2—Charging marshy lands sometimes waist deep in water, Russian forces drove back the Teutonic line from the Dniester River to Koropietz and elsewhere along the eastern front have pressed the Germans and Austrians hard.

GETS $5 FOR BALKING SWINDLE

Liberty, Mo., Aug. 1 — Sheriff White has received from the cashier of the First National Bank of Dennison, Iowa, a draft for $5 to reimburse him for the expenses he was put to in getting a warning to the bank so the bank would not send $10,000 to Mr. Konz, an Iowan who had been persuaded to bet on a fake horse race scheme at Excelsior Springs, recently.

The bank highly complimented the sheriff for his alertness in the matter, and warmly thanked him for his warning, which probably saved Mr. Konz from losing all his savings.

CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND

Daily Progress Being Made at Washington School

Daily progress is being made by the playground, conducted for the benefit of Alexandria's children during the summer under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' Association at the grounds of the Washington School in south Washington street. The play ground is now in its second year.

A resident of Alexandria, observing conditions there, sends the Gazette the following:

"The playground, though just in its infancy in our city, has come to stay, judging from the large number of children that patronize it. Those most interested in the playground hope to see it grow year by year. Of course, many things are needed to make it a modern up-to-date playground and recreation center, but the competent teachers at the playground are doing everything possible to make up for the lack of apparatus.

"Without taxing the people too much, the public is urged to visit the grounds and see what is being done. It is a Christian duty to fight poverty with better homes, better schools and playgrounds for the children where latent manhood and womanhood can develop, unrestricted by the gutter."

"BOSTON CLUB."

Membership List of Alexandria Lodge of Elks New Organization Increasing

The membership of the "Boston Club", recently organized among members of Alexandria Lodge, No. 758, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, has jumped from an initial thirty to fifty and indications are that before the time for next year's convention of the Grand Lodge of Elks, the national order, which will be held at Boston, comes around, there will be nearly one hundred members of the local lodge that will make the trip to the convention city by water.

The "Boston Club" has already adopted a uniform consisting of blue coat, white crash trousers, and white cap, in which its members will attend the convention next year.

SEMINARY NOTES.

During the summer the main interest in the Seminary is, as a general rule, noting the absence of professors, but this season the evidence of work may be seen by every visitor to the hill. The main improvement in hand is the building of a large heating plant for the Seminary buildings, which has been planned for some time. It is expected that it will be in readiness for the beginning of cool weather in the fall, and work on the foundations is progressing favorably. The great chimney of the plant will be eighty feet high. The plant will not only heat the buildings much better than they have been heated by the old system of stoves, but will secure the buildings, to a large extent, against the danger of fire, from which they have been most providentially preserved since the first erection of the students' halls and other edifices on the grounds.

Dr. Kennedy's residence is steadily moving towards completion, the wet weather having delayed the workmen very much ever since the building was commenced.

The only professor on the Hill at present is Dr. Kennedy. Dr. Crawford and family left a few days ago for the home of Mr. S. F. Houston, in Philadelphia, and will shortly leave with Mr. Houston and his family for the north.

Prof. Bell is in West Virginia; Prof. Rollins and Mrs. Rollins, in New Hampshire; Prof. and Mrs. Wallis, who have been at Fairfax, for the past two weeks, leave for Niagara Falls, on Friday, next accompanied by their neice, Miss Elsie Snowden, and Dean Berryman Green, is at Nimrod Hall, Va., while Mrs. Green is at Charlottesville, Va.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our thanks to the many friends who attended the picnic given last Thursday for the St. Mary's Parochial Improvement Fund. We are very thankful for the amount of cash raised at that time through donations and otherwise.

COMMITTEE IN CHARGE.

HUGHES SPEECH DISAPPOINTING

Republicans Realize Lack of Definite, Constructive Plan

HE IGNORES ISSUES

Candidate Challenged to Put Himself on Record as to What Course He Would Follow

Washington, Aug. 2—Charles E. Hughes' speech of acceptance has created profound disappointment among his friends in this city. Nobody who has listened to the private comment of Republican leaders possibly can be mistaken as to that fact. Wherever these leaders have gathered, the same feeling has been reflected.

It has been confidently expected that the Republican nominee would do more than merely arraign the Wilson administration; that he would not confine himself to a blanket indictment, to a sweeping condemnation of the policies and measures of the last three years. His friends had believed that he would propose something constructive, some definite program of action to which the country might pin its faith.

These friends had not believed that Mr. Hughes would go before the people in his address merely as a destructionist.

New York, Aug. 2—On behalf of a committee of distinguished American writers, the executive group of which has met at the Hotel Biltmore, George Creel gave out the following open letter:

"To the Hon. Charles E. Hughes:

"The professional writers who sign this letter have small interest in parties, but a very deep interest in Democracy. It is our hope, through this voluntary association, to assist in the promotion of honest, educational discussion in order that fundamental issues may not be decided in prejudice and ignorance.

"Mr. Wilson's beliefs have been expressed in law and in declared policies. He has made an open record by which he may be judged. Wise choice is not possible unless you yourself make equally specific statement of purposes and convictions.

"Without intent to offend, we feel justified in charging that in no single public utterance have you filed a bonafide bill of particulars, nor have you offered a single constructive suggestion.

"Generalities are without value. Blanket criticism is worthless. What we desire to know, what it is fair that the electorate should know, are the exact details of your disagreement with President Wilson. What has he done that you would not have done, and what has he failed to do that you would have done or propose to do. Honesty and p atriotism demand that you put yourself upon record in such a manner as to permit people to judge you as they are now able to judge President Wilson. For example:

"1. Would you have filed instant protest against the invasion of Belgium and backed up that protest with the United States Navy?

"2. It is arrant nonsense to talk about action that would have prevented the Lusitania tragedy. The vague advertisement did not appear until shortly before the hour of sailing. The occurrence was one of those things that civilization had made the world regard as incredible. The only honest question is this: Would you have made the disaster the subject of diplomatic negotiations or would you have broken relations with Germany at once?

"3. Would you have urged upon Congress an embargo upon the shipment of munitions to the Allies?

"4. Would you urge universal compulsory military service?

"5. You are frank in stating that Huerta's morals were of no concern to America. Does this mean that you would have recognized Huerta?

"6. As matters stand today would you be in favor of intervening in Mexico?

"7. Does your attack upon the Wilson Shipping bill mean that you are in favor of ship subsidies?

"8. You speak enthusiastically of the rights of the worker. Does this imply that you indorse the Clayton Anti-Trust law and the Seamen's bill? Or will you urge their repeal?

"9. What are your specific complaints against the Federal Reserve law?

"10. As Governor of New York you oppose the income tax amendment? Does this antagonism persist? Do you or do you not believe in paying for preparedness out of a tax on incomes, inheritances and munitions?

YOUTHS SENT TO FRONT

German Poisoners Captured by The French and British Include Many of 1917 Class.

Paris, Aug. 1.—The German army on the Western Front, according to authoritative sources here consists of 122 divisions, comprising much more than half the German forces in the field. The precise strength of the divisions is unknown, some consisting of two brigades and others of three. Two brigade divisions on a war footing have 14,000 men, three-brigade divisions 21,000, hence the total strength of the force on this front is assumed to be somewhere between 1,700,000 and 2,500,000.

Numerous prisoners recently taken are of the 1917 class, that is, from 19 to 20 years old.

Paris, Aug. 2— It appears that Germany transferred 23 divisions from the eastern to the western front at the conclusion of the Russian campaign in the autumn of 1915. Only four divisions were withdrawn from this front in June and sent to Galcia to help hold back Russian invasion. The simultaneous pressure on both fronts by the Entente Allies thus prevents the transfer of troops from one frontier to another.

The net result of the British offensive on the River Somme from July 1 to 15, was stated officially to be that the whole first German position between Ovillers and Montauban, and the greater part of the second German position, fell into British hands. Seven villages were retaken and 12,000 officers and men were made prisoners. The military material seized included 35 field guns, a naval gun, an anti-aircraft gun, several large howitzers, and an enormous quantity of machine guns, trench cannon and munitions.

Twenty-one enemy aeroplanes were brought down beyond question. A dozen were seen falling head downward to earth.

The German losses in men, the statement says, must have been serious. The average loss is estimated at about one division daily.

MEDIATION FAILS

Street-Car Employes of New York Are Warned by Mayor

New York, Aug. 2—Efforts toward mediation in the street railways strike by Mayor Mitchell failed at a conference held here late yesterday with representatives of the union and the street railway lines. W. D. Mahon, president of the union, told the Mayor that the men demands recognition as a union. This demand, C. A. Maher, Jr., representing the railway companies, said would not be granted.

"We will recognize the men as individuals or as a collective body of employes, but not as a union organization," Mr. Maher said. Neither side receding the conference adjourned. The Mayor warned both sides that disorder would not be tolerated. There was little change in the strike situation yesterday.

HOLLAND WINS BY 1,486 MAJORITY

Renominated For Congress at Primary Held Yesterday

SWEEPING VICTORY

Captures Nearly Every County in District—Outdistances all Competitors in Race

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 2—Congressman E. E. Holland was renominated for Congress by the Democratic party of the Second District in the Primary held yesterday by a clear majority of 2,486 votes over all three opponents, and by a plurality of 3,860 over his nearest competitor, J. Peter Holland, of Norfolk. The six precincts of the ninety in the district that are missing are small ones, and will not cast more than 150 votes.

The Congressman carried every county and city in the district, and almost every precinct. His home county and city he carried by almost unanimous vote, and received a flattering majority in the adjoining counties of Southampton and Isle of Wight. In Norfolk City alone did the fight against him assume serious proportions, and even there he was winner by a plurality of 700 votes over J. Peter Holland. Princess Anne, the home couny of J. E. Cole, another opponent, he swept like a breeze, receiving 211 of the 273 votes cast. Portsmouth, the old home of former Congressman Maynard, and Norfolk County, his present home, gave the Congressman a majority over all the latter by more than two to one.

The most interesting feature of the fight in Norfolk City was the bitter struggle in Adams Ward between James V. Trehy and his rebel lieutenants after a hard fight, during which the leader himself for the first time in several elections, worked all day at the polls. Trehy managed to win by a narrow margin.

James E. Prince, another leader of the organization, also revolted and carried two of his three precincts for Peter Holland, although out of the city attending a sick wife.

Congressman Holland carried every ward in the city.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2—Virginia Democratic leaders in Washington have received information from the Seventh District that State Senator Downing, of Front Royal, and George B. Keezel, of Rockingham, have decided not to make the race for Congress. Downing, it is stated, will support Judge Harrison, of Winchester, and Keezell will back Senator N. B. Early, of Greene.

The decision of Downing and Keezell leaves three candidates in the race—Judge Harrison, State Senator Early and Floyd Weaver, of Page.

Albert Byrne, 12 years old, lost his life yesterday in trying to save his younger brother, Harold, from being run down by an automobile in the street in front of their home, Brooklyn. The boys were wrestling in the street after a chase. Little Harold saw an automobile driven by Louis Joseph, a tinsmith, approaching them. He tore away from his brother and ran for the curb ahead of the car. Albert, turning, started after him with arms outstretched. The mud guard struck Albert and knocked him to the curb.

An official statement issued in Paris, yesterday says: "We are now in possession of precise information regarding the repression of which two Hungarian regiments were the object. One had revolted; the other took to flight before the enemy at Pliaschowo. It was the Seventh regiment of landwehr of the Sixth corps, which made common cause with the Magyar mutineers. Two hundred and seventeen men of this regiment were shot. The other regiment was the Thirteenth landwehr. The 123 men who escaped from the Russians were shot by order of the chief of staff of Gen. von Linsingen."

BOLD ACT OF JUVENILE

Enters Apartment House and Carries Off Nine Dollars, Gold Spectacles and Knife

Yesterday afternoon a youth entered the apartments occupied by James E. Johnson and family on the southeast corner of Prince and St. Asaph streets by opening a window and pushing back the bolt of the kitchen door. He began to ransack the rooms in search of plunder, and while so engaged his presence was discovered by a member of the family who happened to enter the apartment at the time and who gave an alarm. The youthful housebreaker rushed from the house and gained the street before he could be intercepted. A boy was passing on a bicycle at the time, and he was urged to follow the fugitive. Upon reaching Pitt street the latter rushed into the alley on the west side of the street between King and Prince. The boy who was following was unable to run his wheel into the alley and the object of his pursuit soon vanished.

Upon taking an inventory in Mr. Johnston's room it was found that nine dollars were missing, a pair of gold spectacles and a pen-knife. Mr. Johnston has been making preparations recently to remove to Charlottesville temporarily, where his son, Frank Johnston, will attend the University of Virginia. The young housebreaker evidently was aware of that fact and had entered the house at a time he supposed all the members of the family would be absent.

The Police today arrested William Berryman, aged 15, and Paul Hamilton, 14, on suspicion of being connected with the robbery of Mr. Johnston's house. They were held for a future examination.

MOTORCYCLIST IS FINED

Young Man Pays Five Dollars For Speeding on North Washington Street

For the benefit of all interested, it can be stated that persons operating automobiles and autocycles are liable to be arraigned in the Police Court, if they fail to observe the city's traffic law, or run their machines in excess of the speed allowed. Should any one pass over a square running north and south in less than 24 seconds he or she will be exceeding the lawful speed, and those passing over those running east and west in less than 18 seconds will be in danger of arrest.

The recent protests which have been made against speeding in the streets has caused the policemen to concentrate their attention to such infractions of law, and every effort will be made to hale those into court who persist in defying the regulations.

Early last night a young man was arrested on the charge of operating a motor-cycle on north Washington street at a dangerous speed. The act was committed early in the morning, the offender being employed outside the city. As he shot north like an arrow the few people on the thoroughfare at the time had their attention called to his recklessness. Two policemen were on hand and witnessed the act also. It was impossible for the latter to overtake him, so they waited until he returned to the city after sundown when they brought him to the station house. A special session of the Police Court was held and the young man was fined $5. He was told that the assessment would be doubled should the offense be repeated.

The accused in this case is not the only offender in the city, but it is hoped that the action of the authorities will prove a sufficient reminder to all others who persist in tempting providence.

MONUMENT TO MOSBY

Comrades of Confederate Chieftain Engaged in Movement to Erect Shaft

The surviving members of the late Col. John S. Mosby's command have issued an appeal for funds with which to erect a suitable monument to the memory of their late commander. They make no attempt in their circular to impress upon those they desire to interest that a suitable monument should be erected to Col. Mosby. They rightly assume this should be aparent. His history is known not only to many who were contemporaneous with him in the days of the war between the states, but to many more who have read of his exploits in later years, and who made his acquaintance.

The projectors appeal especially to the women of the south, whose services have always been invoked in the laudable movements made since the close of the war for perpetuation of the memories of the late Southern Confederacy and its leaders, military and political.

The suggestion will appeal to the thousands in the southern country, who have ever been ready to appreciate merit. As has often been said by speakers at gatherings of ex-Confederates, the principles for which the people of the Confederacy stood are as sacred now as in 1861. The noble leaders who fought and sacrificed their all in unsuccessful attempts to maintain them have ever been honored by the people they represented, and that Col. Mosby should be in this constellation is acknowledged by all.

ANOTHER FALSE ALARM

Need of Fire Alarm System Becomes More Apparent Daily

That combined efforts should be made by the city authorities and the residents of Alexandria towards apprehending "alarm fiends" who are busy at the present time at sounding false alarms of fire at all hours of the day and night, is apparent, for every time the city sends out its fire apparatus in response to such a call, it costs about twenty-five dollars. Almost a half dozen times within the past several weeks false alarms have been turned in, and all citizens should make it their duty, pro bono publico, to see that such lends are taken into custody, given the maximum penalty for their crime, or else prevented in their nefarious work, which, beside the inconvenience to the firemen and the alarm caused to residents, is a heavy expense to the city.

This morning, shortly before one o'clock the apparatus was called out and dashed madly up King street as far as the Emerson Pump Company works at the head of this thoroughfare, only to find out that the alarm was false. Numbers of residents were startled when the brazen tones of the fire bells broke the stillness of the night.

MR. HUGHES' SPEECH.

Mr. Hughes' long address of acceptance contains but one-half pennyworth of the bread of definite statement and proposed action to an intolerable deal of the sack of generalities that do not even glitter. This is the summing up of the utterance as made by the Philadelphia Record. Our exchange, continuing, says his definition of dominant Americanism and his demand for the unflinching maintenance of our rights recall Mr. Roosevelt's sneer that the difference between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Hughes could be removed with a razor.

There are very few statements of fact, and some of these are errors, and some are intentionally misleading. Among the latter is the statement that all the mobile regulars and all the State troops are assembled on the frontier to guard against raids by bandits. Mr. Hughes knows perfectly well that the National Guard was called out because the de facto Government of Mexico demanded that our punitive expedition be withdrawn, and threatened to attack it if it were not. The President called out the National Guard to reinforce the regular army in view of Carranza's threat, a threat which he promptly withdrew as soon as he saw the State troops appearing on the border.

We have read this speech carefuly for some plain statement of what the President ought to have done, or ought not to have done. The onty one we can find is that the President ought to have recognized Huerta. That the Government of the United States, pledged to the maintenance of a Government by the people, of the people and for the people, should have given its moral support to this blood-stained military despot in opposition to a revolution aimed at the establishment of popular government is a monstrous proposition. We gather from the diffuse remarks of the Republican candidate that the Democratic party is responsible for the disorders in Mexico which began two and a half years before Mr. Taft retired from office. Apparently, also, Mr. Hughes thinks that if a country is without a strong and settled Government under which life and property are safe, it is the duty of the United States to conquer that country and establish a better Government.

"What does it avail," asks the Republican candidate, "to use some of the strongest words used in diplomacy if Ambassadors can receive the impression that the words are not to be taken seriously?" If any such incident occurred Mr. Hughes ought in honesty to have added that the Secretary of State and the Ambassador referred to had to retire from office a long time ago. Mr. Hughes' notion that if something else had been done 'there would have been no destruction of American lives by the sinking of the Lusitania" is either dishonest or childish. Germany would not have been deferred from embarking on the submarine campaign by anything we could have said, no matter how it was said, but in the end the President won a notable diplomatic triumph in the German concessions in reply to our demands after the attack on the Sussex, since which time the submarine campaign has been largely in abeyance. In the language of an English writer, "Mr. Wilson's note did the trick."

We learn furthermore that Mr. Hughes is in favor of a protective tariff and woman suffrage. His promise of a rural credits measure is a little superfluous, as the Democrats have already enacted that. The greater part of the speech is an effort to befog the political issues by describing a millennial state that will result from electing him President Everybody is in favor of the millennium. Political issues relate to the means of attaining it. Except for the tariff, Mr. Hughes is exceedingly careful not to disclose his means of attaining that blessed state of universal virtue and happiness.

GERMAN ORATIONS.

If the Kaiser has made the two military orations to his troops reported in the newspapers during the last few days, he is still under the domination of the spirit which plunged him into this war. His reasservation of his old claim to be the special representative of Providence is a little difficult to understand just at this moment, when Providence seems to be repudiating him and when the thought is probably growing in Germany, as well as elsewhere, that the war is the work of the devil's agents and not of a benevolent divinity. As observed by a contemporary, apart from the inappropriateness of the Kaiser's assertion of divine authority at a period when arrant nonsense must be especially irritating to a country which is bleeding at every pore because of his fatal leadership, it is singular that he does not know his own people any better than to think that they would accept such an outworn doctrine at any time. The Germans probably have as little sympathy with this exploded theory as any nation in the world, and the German Emperor cannot fail to know this, unless he has really become a little daft on this subject. Like a theatrical costume, the "divine right of kings" was once a royal "property" that was valuable for the impression it produced upon the multitude. But it is a pasteboard crown that has long ago been discarded in all other civilized regions, and to drag it out again at such a tragic juncture as this seems to suggest mental hallucination rather than the intellectual strength which we have been accustomed to associate with the Emperor.

According to a dispatch from Berlin, there are indications that more freedom in the discussion of the war aims will be granted in the immediate future. The "German national committee" have begun a great speaking campaign with a list of speakers including many of the most prominent men in Germany.

The Emperor is also to appear upon the rostrum.

At the same time "the independent committee for obtaining an honorable peace" will open its activities, and "the committee on the guiding principles for the way to a lasting peace" will convene in Munich.

The proclamation thrown on Berlin is described by French authorities as consisting of an "impartial statement of the causes of the war and the principal reasons why the Entente Allies are bound to win" and concluding with these words:

"By the wholesale massacre of innocent women and children, and by her brutal methods of warfare Germany has alienated the sympathies of neutrals and the number of her enemies grows daily.

"The allies are firmly resolved to go on until the utmost limit. You are fighting for your steel kings, your squirearchy, your land grabbers. We are fighting for the liberty of all against the tyranny of military caste.

"We desire to punish the guilty. We wish to make a repetition of the present carnage impossible and that object will be attained if in Germany the people possess the right to decide questions of war and peace for themselves."

The Kaiser still believes he is the modern Joshua with Jehovah preciding him. In his last proclamation he says:

"With God's gracious help, I am convinced that your future deeds (addressing his soldiers) will equal those of the past and present.

A message from the Emperor William to the German imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, on the second anniversary of the war, says:

"There are still hard times ahead. After the terrible storm of two years of war the desire for sunshine and peace is stirring all human hearts. But the war continues because the battle-cry of the enemy governments is still the destruction of Germany. The blame fro further bloodshed falls only on our enemies. Germany knows she is fighting for existence; knows her strength and relies on God's help. Therefore there is nothing to shake our determination or endurance."

TESTING THE OUSTER LAW.

Commissioner Doherty's petition for the removal from office of L. C. Brock, Mayor of the town of Smithfield, for alleged misconduct in office, will not bring to a real test the efficacy of the ouster law, under the provisions of which Mr. Doherty filed his petition, as is suggested by a Richmond cotemporary. The charge against Mayor Brock is not based on any dereliction in the perforance of his executive duties, but grows out of the fact that as Mayor he is ex officio justice of the peace he "knowing and willfuly misconducted himself in office."

As has been pointed out, the ouster law provides no new remedy in cases of this character, but only offers method of bringing them to the bar of the court. Mayor—or Justice—Brock will have a right to demand trial by jury. If he had been proceeded against under the olded practice, which is still allowable, he would have had the same right. So in availing his department of the provisions of the ouster law, Commissioner Doherty has merely elected between two concurrent methods of ... It was to meet cases for which no other summary remedy was provided that the ouster law was

One thousand United States troops were rushed out of El Paso late last night to attack a band of about 200 Mexican bandits who are reported to have crossed the border and are heading for Sierra Blanca, Tex. The bandits, according to a report, fired on Massachusetts militia outposts along the border, driving them to shelter, then dashed on northward. All were mounted and heavily armed. None of the militiamen was injured.

According to Havre shipping circles, the voyage of the Deutschland is even a greater bluff than appears. It is believed the submarine never navigated the Atlantic. But was shipped in parts aboard neutral vessels which called at unfrequented American ports. There the parts were put together, and when the submarine floated, she was laden with analine dyes and triumphantly sailed for Baltimore within the three-mile limit.

Ruth Clark, about 20 years old, giving an address in Kennington, is in a Jewis Hospital, Philadelphia, the supposed victim of an attack by motor-car joy riders. The girl was found by the side of Ashbourne road shortly after midnight Sunday morning. A youth returning to his home heard her moan. Her hands and feet were tightly bound and she was gagged with a handkerchief. She was so exhausted and hysterical that she could not tell a coherent story.

Two terrific bombs explosions tore the side of the home of Abraham M. Liebling, editor of the Jewish Daily Press, in Chicago, yesterday. Liebling and his family and the family of I. Troy wee thrown from their beds and bruised. Liebling declares that after he testified in the recent trials of labor union agents charged with "shaking down" business men he was warned that they would "get him."

MAJOR LEAGUE BALL

American League

St. Louis Brownies are certainly bound to climb a few paces higher in the standing of the American League clubs, in a short while, for at the present time, they are winning right along and putting up an exhibition of playing of highest caliber. The Brownies had to go 14 innings yesterday in order to take the New York Yanks into camp, but they went the distance without cracking, and registered a decision over the erstwhile league's leaders by a one-run margin.

The Nationals are still one-half gace behind the Tigers, the same standing as yesterday, owing to the fact that both these clubs were defeated by their opponents, Joe Boehling being slammed around the lot yesterday by the Indians, who put it over the Washington boys by 6 to 1, and the Boston Red Sox still keeping up their winning pace and defeating the Jungle town athletes.

Yesterday's scores:
Cleveland, 6; Washington, 1.
Boston, 6; Detroit, 2.
Chicago, 3; Athletics, 0.
St. Louis, 3; New York, 2. (Fourteen innings).

Schedules for today:
Washington at Cleveland.
